How did you learn about Hiram College? _____

A SPECIAL STUDENT who wishes to enroll in the Hiram Weekend College is any student who is not a degree student. Students who are taking courses for personal reasons or who are degree candidates at other colleges are classified as special students.

Being accepted as a special student does not guarantee acceptance to Hiram College or to Hiram Weekend College as a degree candidate. A special student who wishes to become a candidate for the Hiram College degree must complete the appropriate application and be considered for admission.

Hiram College courses may be audited with the permission of the Dean of the Weekend College and subject to class size or space restrictions. Students must formally register for the course, fulfill regular attendance expectations, and perform any additional tasks stipulated by the professor. If these conditions are satisfactorily met, the audited course will be recorded on the student's official transcript, with the mark of AU. However, it is important to note that audited courses do not provide credits toward graduation and that a course cannot be changed from audit to credit status after the first weekend of the session. The fee for auditing a Hiram College course is $50.00 per credit hour; the student is subject to all the general College policies on withdrawal and refunds.*
