The Center for Literature and Medicine invites submissions of writing and art that respond to any aspect of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Creative Writing including creative nonfiction, fiction, poetry

Visual Art/Multimedia
including photography, painting/mixed media, comics/graphic narratives, film/recorded performance

First prize in each category: $300
Runner-up in each category: $200

The contest is open to current Hiram and NEOMED students, as well as Hiram alumni from the class of 2020. Multiple submissions are permitted.

Deadline for submissions: March 26, 2021

ABOUT THE JUDGE

DANA WALRATH, PHD, MFA
Dana Walrath, writer, artist, and anthropologist, crosses borders and disciplines with her work including Aliceheimer’s, a graphic memoir and Like Water on Stone, a verse novel about the Armenian genocide. A Fulbright Scholar and Senior Atlantic Fellow, her comics, essays, and commentary have appeared in The Lancet, Irish Times, Slate, Foreign Policy, Public Radio and in anthologies including Menopause: A Comic Treatment, a New York Times Best of 2020 Graphic Novel.

TO ENTER

Visit 778.short.gy/CLM
Or scan the QR code

Questions: litmed@hiram.edu